Congratulations to Chief Auteri

FDDB Chief Mike Auteri (third from left) was one of several members of the Port of Cincinnati Area Maritime Security Committee who received an award letter for their part in facilitating a multiagency task team that undertook a comprehensive rewrite of the Ohio River Emergency Response and Notification Guidebook, also called the "Red Book." The revisions to the Red Book greatly enhanced the ability of local fire and police agencies on both sides of the Ohio River to make necessary notifications and responses to incidents occurring along the river, as well as identifying and reducing vulnerabilities to security threats in our communities. Thanks Chief, and congratulations!

L.E.S. Principal Notes

LES Family and Friends,

Let's just say that the school year is officially in full swing as students and teachers are back in the building working hard to get the job done. We now have a beautiful building with these amazing interactive Smart Boards that take student learning to a whole new level. The old school days of just sitting in a classroom where lessons are dominated by paper and pencil work are quickly fading away. Students are now learning through a technological world that creates a natural sense of engagement. It has always been said that "Rome wasn't built in a day." We are up for the challenge as we continue to strive for excellence knowing that anything can be accomplished through hard work. The expectations are very clear, and the demand is high. We will get the job done!

We certainly believe that rewarding students for making good choices on a daily basis is imperative. This will be the third year in a row where students can earn a "Devil Dollar" for staying on a green (good status). Students will then earn the privilege of redeeming their Devil Dollars at the Devil Store. Students will get their first experience at the Devil Store during the month of September. Once again, the 6th graders will run the show by escorting students to the store and serving as cashiers. We will continue to challenge our 6th graders to be leaders in the building while serving as an example that the young ones can look up to for guidance.

We are also looking for guidance from the LES parents and teachers as we strive to build a much stronger PTC organization. The Parent Teacher Committee serves as a great opportunity for everyone to get involved with the numerous fundraisers and school functions taking place this year. The PTC meetings are typically held on the 4th Monday of the month and begin at 4:00 pm in Lincoln's library. We encourage everyone to attend and become an active member in the great things taking place at LES. Please look in the next edition of the LES Newsletter regarding our next PTC meeting.

Another initiative that will continue to occur this year will be the use of a school-wide communication folder. Every student in grades K-6 should be bringing home a green folder each Monday that includes graded papers and pertinent information to LES. Please be expecting these folders every Monday and take the time to go through them each week. Please also note the following important events and dates as the 1st quarter of school continues:

- ✓ September 6 - PTC Mumkin Fundraiser begins
- ✓ September 9 - Progress Reports sent home (grades 4-6)
- ✓ September 23 - Fall Family Fun Night at LES from 6-7:30pm
- ✓ October 4 - 1st Grading Period ends (no more shorts until the 4th Qtr.)
- ✓ October 7-11 - Fall Break (No School)
- ✓ October 22 - Fall Picture Day
- ✓ October 24 - Parent Teacher Conferences at 3-7pm

As always, please don't hesitate to contact us at 292-7492 if you have any questions. We are very excited with the direction that the school is headed and know that if you "Expect More...and Demand More...then you will Achieve More!"

FROM THE DESK OF SUPERINTENDENT JAY BREWER

You Won't be Good at Things You Don't Do!

From time to time I hear people say, "I am not good at that." When you dig a little bit deeper, you find that they really have never tried to be good at that. "I can't run." You have never run. "I can't play the piano." You have never practiced. "I can't do pull ups." You don't work out.

This week I worked with our eighth graders and tenth graders in reviewing their results on recent Explore and Plan scores. The Explore and Plan test are given to all eighth and tenth graders to prepare students for the ACT in their junior year. One advantage of taking the Explore and Plan tests is that it allows students to understand their academic strengths and weaknesses to assist them in goal setting for the ACT.

It was clearly a disappointing moment for a few students when we were reviewing their reading scores. After discussing their score I would ask the student if they read on their own, at home. Their head would drop and they would mumble "no." I would quickly respond with, "So, you think you are going to be good at something you don't do?" No response was needed or expected.

Time and time again on these types of tests our students that do well in reading, do well on the other areas. It is a simple explanation. You have to read to do the math, English, and Science parts of the test. The tests are timed. You have to move quickly from question to question and from reading to reading. Time lost due to poor or slow reading adds up to questions not attempted.

Students of all ages should be reading every night. Our young primary students need to be read to and read with. Our intermediate students need to be reading silently for 15-30 minutes a night. Our middle and high school students need to have one self-selected book that they are reading every night. No one should be leaving Dayton Independent Schools each day without a book in hand! I highly encourage everyone to read!

"The more that you read, the more things you will know. The more that you learn, the more places you'll go." - Dr. Seuss, I Can Read With My Eyes Shut!

Dayton Alumnus becomes very first graduate of the University of Kentucky First Scholars Program

Graduating senior Anthony Cadle experienced several personal "firsts" when he walked across the stage on May 5. Not only is he the first member of his family to graduate from college, he also became the first graduate of the University of Kentucky's First Scholars Program.

Cadle graduated in three years with a Bachelor of Arts in Economics from the College of Arts and Sciences along with minors in history and business. The Dayton, Ky. native has been active during his time on campus in several activities including the Leadership Development Program and in his role as a football equipment manager for the men's varsity team.

"I owe everything that I am and am going to be to the First Scholars Program," said Cadle who credits the program for providing him with many resources and mentors dedicated to making his transition to college smooth. "It was hands down the greatest thing that ever happened to me."

First Scholars was initiated in 2010 through a $1.1 million grant from the Texas-based Suder Foundation, an organization that strives to raise graduation rates among students whose parents have no education beyond high school.

"I wouldn't say that the program 'held my hand,' I'm kind of a free spirit that way," Cadle said. "Rather, being in First Scholars was like bowling with the guard rails up. You're the one throwing the ball, but you have people making sure you're heading in the right direction." Students chosen to participate in First Scholars receive a scholarship of $5,000 per year and are required to be active on campus and participate in its mentorship program. "The program is intense. It invests a lot in its students, and therefore expects its students to return on that investment. It makes sure we take advantage of what UK has to offer," Cadle said.

"The friends I made through the program were one of the biggest assets," Cadle said. "We are a family — a close-knit community. I'll probably talk to these people and have friendships with them for the rest of our lives. I have worked my entire life for college graduation, so all of a sudden it's like, 'What's next?' It is surreal that I am actually even here. But it is an exciting, exciting feeling," Cadle said.

"We are very proud of his Anthony's accomplishments and are excited about his future endeavors," Martina Martin, director of the First Scholars Program, said. "We are looking forward to watching this young man's continued growth as he utilizes the many strengths and skills acquired through this participation within First Scholars."

This is a Job for Super Food!

If someone were to ask for a list of the top most nutritious foods, no list would be complete without mentioning the following:

- ✓ Apples- Loaded with Vitamin C, fiber and antioxidants, these crunchy snacks might actually help keep the doctor away, by reducing cholesterol and your risk for cancer and heart disease. But remember to eat the skin!
- ✓ Avocados- Did someone say guacamole? Also high in antioxidants, they help to reduce cholesterol and your risk for cancer and diabetes.
- ✓ Blueberries- A low-calorie fiber and antioxidant source, blueberries may help improve short-term memory and slow down the effects of aging on the brain (i.e., Alzheimer's).
- ✓ Broccoli- This highly nutritious vegetable, a relative of spinach, cabbage, cauliflower, kale and collard greens, contains vitamin C and beta-carotene. It may help prevent diabetes, certain cancers and heart disease.
- ✓ Flaxseeds- Reduce the risk for heart disease by providing plenty of omega-3 fats.
- ✓ Pomegranates- These are receiving a lot of press lately, and little wonder! They contain three times the amount of antioxidants as those found in red wine and green tea. Long-term use of this juice helps to prevent heart disease and reduces the risk of certain cancers and the not-so-nice effects of aging (i.e., Alzheimer's).
- ✓ Salmon- A major source of omega-3 fats, decreases your risk for developing heart disease, cancer, Alzheimer's, stroke, diabetes and arthritis and may help with depression. Choose wild salmon over farm raised.
- ✓ Sweet Potatoes- They are loaded with beta-carotene and are great metabolism boosters! They are also a good fiber source, fat-free and low in calories - so they're ideal for dieters!
- ✓ Walnuts/Almonds- These nuts are good for you! Loaded with nutrients, antioxidants and omega-3 fats, they help reduce cholesterol and keep you heart-healthy. Their protein, fiber and healthy fats make you feel full, so you might not be as prone to over-indulge in foods that aren't good for you!

Proper nutrition, exercise, getting enough rest - all of these are part of a healthy lifestyle that we encourage when you come in for your regular chiropractic care. All work together to make the healthiest you that you can be! For more health related topics and information, please visit: www.daytonkychiro.com.

"How to Pray 101"

Many of us hear others say, "Pray and your prayers will be answered". But all have not been taught to pray and are not quite sure what to do. After all we are talking to someone we cannot see, or touch. We can feel Him though. Praying is not that hard, it just takes some practice!

"Our Father who art in Heaven", first we must acknowledge Him, as He is the Father of all of us. Begin with "Thank you Father, I want to be in Your presence". I need to talk to You, I have screwed up, and I need some help figuring out what to do. Or possibly, Father I have something to tell You about...

"Thy Kingdom come", tell Him how you believe He will prevail over darkness, He will make the darkness turn to light. "Give us this day, our daily bread" Tell Him what you are in need of today, whether it is food to feed your family, love, friendship, hope, or healing for a loved one.

"Forgive us, as we forgive others". We are certainly not perfect, ask Him to forgive you for your sins, and more importantly ask for help to forgive others who are cruel to us and others. Forgiving others is a very hard job that we all need help with. "Lead us not to temptation and deliver us from evil". Ask Him to keep you from making bad choices, and away from evil doings. Ask for help in avoiding bad situations.

Tell Him you love Him, you acknowledge His power, and you give all the glory to Him. AMEN. Give prayer a try, God is waiting to hear from you! Join Rev Holly on Sunday mornings at 10:45 a.m., call for help or counseling 261-7896, or visit us on our website www.firstpresdayton.org

A Trip to the Principal's Office

--Help needed from parents and community--

The first days of school are now behind us. Classroom procedures, bell schedules, locker combinations, lunch codes, and dress code should all be familiar topics to our students. Now that the formalities that often accompany the first days of school are done, it's time to focus on successful learning and improving the lives of our students. I would love to say, "We can do this alone. Just get them to school and we'll take care of all the learning." But, that is not the case. We need your help. In fact, the success of our students depends upon a partnership. I call this the two thirds rule and I've seen it play out in all facets of life. The school is a partner with parents and the community.

We could have the best educational environment on the planet at Dayton High School and still fail if we do not have the support of the community and our parents. When our students leave DHS, they have relationships within the community and at their homes which have significant influence on their lives. We need to have at least one more positive relationship that supports the educational process in order to have true success.

So, how can you help? Parents, you can become our partner in your child's education. Our school will soon provide curriculum maps that describe what we are teaching and when this should occur. You'll be able to find these documents on the DHS website. Please review all of these documents as they apply to your student and keep up with your child's education. This will empower you as our partners and will allow you to continue your child's learning beyond the classroom walls.

Being an involved parent creates a partnership of understanding. You'll have a better understanding of what happens in school, of the agendas, lessons, and of school culture. When you ask your children what they learned in school each day, you will know if they paid attention. You will be better informed on how to help your child with his/her homework. When you speak with teachers, you will have the knowledge and power to ask effective questions. When you are prepared and ask your children questions about school, it sends the message that education is important.

The community can also help our students be successful. At home and at school, students have the guidance of those who care. When our students are out in the community with their friends, they still need watchful eyes. Dayton is a close knit community and most of its citizens are known to each other. Ask students how school is going; point out when you hear good things about the school; show that you, too, are concerned when students are around shady individuals. Get personal with them and help however you can.

Many of our local businesses donate to our schools and we are grateful. It is truly awesome to drive through the neighborhood and see our citizens wearing their Dayton Pride shirts that were donated by local businesses. Keep up the good work of supporting our schools and our students. We need you.

"What we want is to see the child in pursuit of knowledge, and not knowledge in pursuit of the child". ~George Bernard Shaw

CIRCUS MOJO: Two very lucky young ladies represented Lincoln School through the Kicks for Kids sponsored circus camp. Flower and Savannah Maxwell had the privilege of attending a week of circus camp at Circus Mojo in Ludlow. The girls were introduced to juggling, plate spinning, stilt walking, wire walking, rolling globe, unicycle, tumbling, partner acrobatics, gym wheel, trapeze, silks, clowning and performance skills. They had a great time and ended the week with a live audience performance, including pies in the face. I may be a slightly partial, but I think our girls were the best in the whole circus!

SCHOOL SUPPLIES: The Dayton FRC, the Lincoln Elementary School Staff and all of our Lincoln Little Devils would like to thank many community members for donating school supplies. With the rising costs of just about everything, school supplies were in high demand for our students. We had several organizations and individuals step up and make donations so that our students have the necessary materials to start school ready to learn. Thank you to the following: East Dayton Baptist Church, Dayton Bellevue Christian Church, Tracy Davis (State Farm), Cahill Mulla, Dayton Eagles, Tom Poe, Big Stef, Pamela Rauckhorst, the Northern Kentucky Youth Football League and the Campbell County Retired Teachers Association. We really appreciate your support!

TOYOTA BORNLEARNING ACADEMY: We are happy to announce that Lincoln School has received a grant from Toyota and the United Way for a bornlearning Academy. The academy is a statewide early childhood learning program aimed at helping parents better prepare their preschoolers for academic success. The series of school-based parent workshops teaches parents and caregivers of young children how to turn everyday moments into learning opportunities. Besides addressing children's academic needs, the workshops, which include child care and nutritional family meals, focus on everything from nutrition to time management issues. If you are a Dayton family with children ages 5 or younger, please contact me at Lincoln School at 292-7492 for more information about this exciting program.

DHS Wellness Center

Dayton Independent Schools are recipients of the Carol M. White Physical Education grant, which is a PEP grant. The grant promotes healthy living and combatting childhood obesity. The grant provides many exciting opportunities for the students of the district, such as field trips for summer programs, training for teachers and cafeteria staff, after-school programs, and new physical education curriculum and equipment.

Another benefit is that the grant paid for a Wellness Center. The Wellness Center is a room that has been designated as the area that promotes a healthy lifestyle by providing work-out equipment such as stationary bicycles, treadmills, ellipticals, and free weights to the students and community of Dayton Kentucky. The Wellness Center is a small work-out facility that is located in a room by the high school gymnasium.

The Wellness Center will be free and open to the Dayton community this fall. Fall hours are: Wednesdays 3:30-5:30, Thursdays 3:30-6:30, and Fridays 3:30-6:00. Hours are subject to change and will be posted at Dayton High School. Anyone interested in using the Wellness Center is welcome; however everyone must sign in and out of the facility. The equipment in the Wellness Center is limited to students and Dayton residents over the age of 12. Please contact the Dayton Schools central office if you have further questions at 859-292-3995.

Greetings from St. John's A.C.C.

-----"Traditional Faith and Worship since 1873"-----

Going with a theme of "Noah's Ark", a great time was had by all of the 19 children who attended the St. John's Anglican Catholic Church Vacation Bible School Day Camp, held on Saturday, August 17.

Led by Sunday school coordinator Kim Newman and a crew of volunteers, the kids were treated to a day of crafts, games, Bible board lessons, singing, snacks and lunch. Their fun day ended with a tour of the Church by our Rector, Fr. Bryan Newman. We were also very excited to share this fun-filled day with our nice friends from New Beginnings Community Church.

KY COMPULSORY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE AGE IS NOW 18

(Frankfort, KY) - The Kentucky Board of Education today passed a resolution recognizing Gov. Steve Beshear and First Lady Jane Beshear for their efforts in raising the compulsory school age to 18, and amended the attendance policies for the state-run schools (Kentucky Schools for the Blind and Deaf) to conform.

Since June 25, when Senate Bill 97 (2013) took effect, 120 school districts have adopted a policy to keep students in school until they turn 18 or graduate, and completed the documentation process with the department. Only 96 districts were required to pass such a policy to trigger statewide implementation no later than the 2017-18 school year. Dayton Independent Schools was one of the first adopters of this policy as the Dayton Board of Education unanimously passed this new policy on June 25, 2013.

Main Street Happenings

It's that time of year again to begin gearing up for our Annual Fall-For-All Festival! This year's event will take place on October 12th from 4pm-10pm. As always we will have plenty of live music, games, food and drinks for all ages to enjoy. We are looking for a great turnout from our own citizens this year so I encourage everyone to find some time to stop down or to participate in the event if you can. We have spaces available for individuals or groups if you are interested in being a part of the event. Please call or e-mail my office to get registered to join. This year we welcome back The Roasters as well as other live acts that I am sure you will enjoy.

You will start to notice some great changes taking place in our Central Business District. Several property owners took advantage of our Façade Grant program this summer and owners and works are starting to make good use of the funds they were awarded. By the end of the year you should see minor to drastic improvements to nine different properties in the 500 and 600 blocks of Sixth Avenue. I encourage all property owners to do their part if they notice their properties could use a little touch up. Right now Sherwin Williams is offering a 35% discount on all interior and exterior paint at the Southgate location. Contact me for the promotional code.

In another effort to help make our town stand out a little more, the Main Street Board has put together a Stick Horse Building Competition. All applications and completed stick horses are due in to city hall by September 30. The contest will be judged by local artists and prizes will be given to first ($200), second ($100) and third ($50) place winners. Guidelines and applications are available on the city website, city Facebook page and city hall. All entries will be displayed in our city's storefronts in the central business district. All ages are encouraged to participate.

If you haven't had a chance, check out our new website at www.daytonky.com. The site will provide you with up-to-date relevant city information and a monthly copy of this publication, as well as access to the proper forms you need to do things in the city. Our City of Dayton Facebook page is also a great source for updated information and "happenings" in the city.

Lincoln Elementary to add Bornlearning Academy and New School Counselor

LES is excited to announce two new grant opportunities. The first is a parent engagement/school based parent workshop program called Bornlearning. The second is for an additional school counselor.

This school year, four Northern Kentucky elementary schools joined a statewide early childhood learning program aimed at helping parents better prepare their preschoolers for academic success. Dayton Independent's Lincoln Elementary, Kenton County's J.A. Caywood Elementary, Covington's Glenn O. Swing Elementary and Silver Grove Elementary are now part of the Toyota Bornlearning Academies. The program, which includes 12 Northern KY schools, is being expanded with the help of four multiyear grants totaling $136,000 from Toyota.

Offered in partnership with United Way of Northern Kentucky and United Way of Greater Cincinnati, the series of school-based parent workshops teach parents and caregivers of children how to turn everyday moments into learning opportunities.

Other local schools that have participated in the program are Collins Elementary in Florence, Grandview Elementary in Bellevue, Crossroads Elementary in Cold Spring, Williamstown Elementary, John G. Carlisle and Latonia elementaries in Covington, Lindeman Elementary in Erlanger and Beechgrove Elementary in Independence. The schools are among 31 statewide that are part of a $1 million investment by Toyota over five years.

The school counseling grant will add an additional school counselor at Lincoln Elementary school for the next three years. This grant came about due to a part of a collaborative grant writing effort with the Northern Kentucky Education Cooperative. Exciting opportunities continue to happen for our Little Devils!

Summer is almost over and fall will be arriving... we will be planting mums here in the very near future. Also if you would, please let the police department know if any of our flowers are seen being tampered with. If you see that some attention is needed for our flower pots, feel free to water. Your help would be greatly appreciated.

Anyone interested in joining the Civic Club? Our membership is unfortunately reducing as well as our ages getting older. We need new members and any new ideas are always welcome. We currently sponsor the Easter Egg Hunt and Light up Dayton as well as planting flowers in the city. Our next meeting will be held on Thursday, September 19, weather permitting at 7 p.m. at Manhattan Harbor, Dayton, Ky.

Dayton Civic Club's

YARD OF THE MONTH

303 Walnut Street

The Dayton Civic Club would like to congratulate Bernard and Aileen Feltner of 303 Walnut Street for being selected as September's Yard of the Month. Aileen purchased the home with her late husband, Robert Miller, in 1965, where they raised their five children who all attended Dayton Schools. This quiet home offers an array of floral décor, where an island of dahlias, zinnias, aster, gardenias and variegated vines surround a beautiful dwarf weeping cherry tree. Greeting guests as they enter the yard are a set of soon to be blooming mums; reminding us fall is closely near! Bernard and Aileen enjoy sitting on their porch on evenings, watching the neighborhood children play at the park across the street. Congratulations Bernard and Aileen for being selected as this month's Yard of the Month!

If you would like to nominate someone for the Dayton Civic Club's Yard of the Month honors, please contact Kim Sparks Townsley at ktownsley@fuse.net

Fireman Joe says...

I hope everyone had a good Labor Day and enjoyed their holiday weekend. I am afraid the holiday kind of snuck up on ole' Fireman Joe, and I am still wondering where the summer went? I have had some good conversations with some teachers and have planned some classroom visits and firehouse tours. I hope we have the opportunity to spend a lot of time in the schools this year. Fire Prevention Month is right around the corner, in fact it begins October 1st and for this year's theme, "Prevent Kitchen Fires!" we are asking you all to team and learn to keep a lid on kitchen fire dangers to save lives in our communities.

During the month of August, I had the pleasure of attending the Bellevue Senior Picnic and will get the opportunity to attend Dayton's Senior Picnic on September 11th. It was fun and informative to speak with our seniors and learn their concerns on Kitchen Fire Safety. They all agree, the leading cause of fires in the kitchen is unattended cooking. How many times have you heard me mention, NEVER leave the kitchen unattended while cooking? It is so easy to get distracted and forget and before you know it a fire has started. So "Cook with Caution" and be on alert!

If you are sleepy or have consumed alcohol don't use the stove or stovetop. Stay in the kitchen while you are frying, grilling, or broiling food. If you have to leave, even for just a short time, turn off the stove. We gave the seniors a ruler which I asked them to carry with them when leaving the kitchen to remind them they are indeed cooking and something is on the stove.

Keep anything that can catch fire, like oven mitts, wooden utensils, food packaging, towels or curtains away from your stovetop. If a fire does break out, just get out! When you leave, close the door behind you to help contain the fire and CALL 9-1-1 regardless of the extent or size of the fire. If you try to fight the fire, be sure others are getting out and you have a clear way out. Keep a lid nearby when you're cooking to smother small grease fires. Smother the fire by sliding the lid over the pan and turn off the stovetop. Leave the pan covered and don't try to move a hot pan. For an oven fire, be sure to turn off the heat and keep the door closed, which is especially true with microwave ovens.

Lastly, have a "kid-free zone" of at least three feet around the stove and areas where hot food or drink is prepared or carried, I even suggest never letting the kids play in the kitchen. In October I will talk more about what we can do to prevent kitchen fires, among other safety tips. There are still some nice days to enjoy a pleasant weekend with your families, and I urge you to do so!

Be safe!

Fireman Joe
